COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 5.—An early advance on apprehensions of unfavorable weather over Sunday was followed by a sharp break in the cotton market today, and, while the final tone was steady, last prices were from 6 to 11 points net lower. The market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 4 points, and before the end of the first hour sold about 7 to 8 points net higher on a continuation of vesterday's covering a continuation of yesterday's covering movement and some fresh buying for long accounts.

The south Atlantic storm develop-ment, which had caused yesterday's late advance, did not appear to have assumed threatening proportions, but the market was influenced by appre-hension of storms in the western belt, followed by colder weather, the continued firmness of the English spot market and reports of a more active trade demand. The advance attracted a good deal of realizing, however, and the market late in the morning eased off sharply under this selling, southern offering and a renewal of bear pres-

Last prices were at practically the lowest. Generally clear weather was predicted for the eastern belt. Reviews of the dry goods indicated continued activity and private cables from Liverpool attributed the comparatively firm showing of the spot market there to a good trade in Manchester and a better de mand from British spinners. NEW ORLEANS, October 5.—The n results of the week's trading in the cotton market were a loss of 31 to 35 points. The high prices of the week were made Monday, and the low prices Thursday. At the highest the trading months were 2 to 3 points over last week's close; at the lowest they were 45 to 54 points under.

The bureau reports Wednesday were chiefly responsible for the lower trend of the market. While the figures of 69.6 on condition and 3,015,033 on ginning were about as expected, bears were encouraged

The weather of the week on the whole was favorable, although the eastern belt got a little too much rain. In the west conditions were called ideal and the gathering of the crop made rapid head-way. The record-breaking output of the gins in Texas and much bearish talk concerning the total yield offset bullish pre dictions concerning the yield in other sections of the belt. The tangle in European politics worked against prices to some ex-

In the spot department prices lost enequarter of a cent, middling closing at 113-16, against 117-16 last week. Sales on the spot amounted to 3,870 bales, against 2,715 last week; sales to arrive amounted to 5,600 bales, against 7,550 last

COFFEE MARKET.

NEW YORK, October 5 .- Coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 10 points on scattered covering for over the week end. market has had to stand a variety of aderse influence this week. Foreign com plications have totaled a lot. Things at home have not been overencouraging; buf in Europe there seems to be in finan cial circles a prevailing belief that a wa of consequence may break out-the spark being in the Balkan situation. What is the trouble abroad is not at all what is hippodromed. It is pleasing to read of patriotism, resentment of oppression and the natural right of logical territorial acquisition-the towering resentment of little countries disinclined to be forever overrun by crushing monarchies. That all these elements enter into the Balkan condition is true undoubtedly beyond debate. And on this account the brave little lands banding together have ample warrant for resentment against the sentimental humanity must be on the side of Greece, forever heroic, and her con-

Though a long time smothered, the difficulty, the stupendous issue, has to do directly with ertbarrassment of every one of the European countries. They are all overloaded. They have civil charges more than sufficient to absorb every natural resource. Yet these civil requirements may be regarded relatively as almost inconsequential, beside the levy imposed for standing armies and their munitions and other collateral demands. France has been ffecting an optimism which her financial uditors have to characterize continually ist there is (with Switzerland perhaps a possible exception) an actual condition which may be only regarded and only fairly characterized as so perilous as to

Upon this account, therefore the Balkan match may become a fagot and a conflagration at any moment-and Wall street (reflecting carefuller sentiment from abroad) has been more or less relective at times this week-at times when standard quotations have been joited—foreign sales of securities in this market being larger day by day than have been known for a long time past. As compared with Europe's more or ess masked distress, the basic situation n this country is altogether wholesome oppression shows nowhere. Governmental burdens of unbearable sort are not to be found on this side of the ocean. For a period extending over as much as a couple of years the United States business condition has been one of reserve, contraction, carefulness carried to an extent of rock-bottom economy. And the result has been that our merchants have economized in step with their customers, decrease of $5,357,800 from last week. our manufacturers have restricted activity, our financiers superlatively pru-dent-every national interest keyed to 000. a hard-times situation—though hard times have not really anywhere prevailed. The present net result is that the country $1,006,000. is all the stronger for the training to which it has subjected itself.

Revolutionary Factors Appear. Now come revolutionary factors. We have bumper crops. Good prices prevail.

Factories are not merely normally busy, but reach the point where they are driven overtime. Empty store shelves force the commercial world into strenuousnessthe demand of customers far outrunning ready supplies. Every fundamental element for a boom is distinguishable. Some peculiar things have featured this week's market. One has had to do with the return from Europe of a rich man credited with readiness to speculate in commanding fashion-Daniel G. Reid, one of the generals who came out of the west when the steel trust was formed. Mr. Reid is not possessed of any strength or status or influence that he has not himself earned. Pro-fessional Wall street when he arrived was inclined to be exceedingly cavalier. He was regarded as a countryman from Indiana whose new fortune could be quickly absorbed by the veterans of the stock exchange. Possibly then Mr. Reid was worth $10,000,000. That was a dozen years ago. He has added $10,-000,000 more every year since. Eshewing all the old accepted formalisms, D. G. Reid has won recognition, wheat centers more liberal than of late, but country sales increased, and there was said to be active hedging in consequence. The Canadian movement, too, showed signs of becoming brisk. All this took attention from war talk and tended took attention from war talk and tended to the complishing results stupendous. Disclosure of Reid's Plans.

Reid's plans for a Eusopean vacation 32½a32½ at the close, at the last named level, ½a½ lower than twenty-four hours before.

Plenty of realizing on the part of holders brought about an easy feeling in provisions. January pork led the decline and when the last bell rang was down 12½ net.

CONDITION OF TREASURY.

Reid's plans for a Eusopean vacation were disclosed. Short sales multiplied. Short sales multiplied. From 25 the stock went back below 20. There was to be a glorious bear revel. All the talent radiated enthusiasm. And happened in Can common was a-plenty. It crossed 40. The sorrows at $4.780,800. He couldn't have had many financial anxieties, as during the summer he has motored over Eu ropean roads.

Now back again comes Reid. Wall street having digested its earlier Can lesson, hurries into wild anticipation of of holdings, not only in Can, but in every other Reid stock—and the net result is that a regiment of shouters and applauders and would-be exploiters are discomfited. Mr. Reid seems quite able to have his own notions of how his own affairs should be conducted. He apparently has no ambition to be a pension bureau.

New Wealth Beyond Precedent. This Can illustration is quoted merely for the reason that it is typical of what

(which while natural from the standpoint of the speculator) is largely hurtful. We have a market situation bulwarked by conditions that represent new wealth beyond precedent. This year's crops show a larger return per acre than America ever before had record of. Fol-lowing virtual desolation, covering a long period, the mercantile situation, the manmercial and industrial situation—revives.
